

Consulate General of India
Munich

Brief on Baden-Wuerttemberg

General:

Germany comprises 16 states. The Consulate General of India in Munich represents India in two states viz. Bavaria and Baden-Württemberg (BW). Together these two states are considered the economic powerhouse of Germany.

Population:

The total population of Germany is around 83.6 million. With a population of 11.3 mn, Baden-Württemberg is the third most populous state in Germany after Bavaria (13.4 mn) and Nordrhein-Westfalen (18.2 mn). The present population of Baden-Württemberg has remained stable over the last ten years. The State Statistical Office has predicted that the population would decrease in the coming years, especially the working-age population. Considering its repercussions on the industry, the State government is taking steps to increase the immigration of skilled professionals.

Economy:

Baden-Württemberg is one of the strongest economic regions in Europe. Baden-Württemberg is considered the most innovative region in the European Union, especially in the area of industrial technology, research and development. Baden-Württemberg is also home to global players like Mercedes-Benz, Porsche, Robert-Bosch GmbH, SAP, etc. It is also known for innovative start-ups and small and medium businesses (Mittelstand).

High-Tech and R&D:

Baden-Württemberg is considered as one of the most innovative regions of Europe. Numerous inventions from Baden-Württemberg have changed the world. These include most notably, the automobile, which was invented in 1886. However, many other everyday items such as ring binders, matches, photocopiers, electrical drills, and even the ski lift originated in this state. Since 2018, the state government and the federal government have implemented “Excellence Strategy” program providing 533 million Euros annually for university research and institutional strategies for development in the field of cutting-edge technology. From 2026, the total budget will be increased to EUR 687 million per year.

Driven by the high-tech culture, Baden-Württemberg holds the first position among the top patent generators in Germany with 14,648 patent applications in 2023. Some of the world-known centres of excellence and R&D located in Baden-Württemberg are the Institute of Beam Tools (Stuttgart), Karlsruhe Institute of Technology, Cancer Research Centre and the European Molecular Biology

Laboratory (Heidelberg). City of Freiburg in the State has been globally recognised as the Green City for having employed state-of-the-art sustainable technologies.

India-Baden-Württemberg trade:

Baden-Württemberg is a major driving force for growing India-Germany trade and investment ties. During the year 2024, Indian exports to Baden-Württemberg stood at 1.7 Billion euros and imports at 2.5 Billion euros. Top import items from Baden-Württemberg are machines, data processing equipment, electronic and optical products etc. The major export items from India are machines, pharmaceutical products, motor vehicles and motor vehicle parts.

Indian investment in Baden-Württemberg: There are around 50 Indian companies in Baden-Württemberg. Prominent Indian investors in Baden-Wuerttemberg are: TCS, Infosys, Tata Technologies, Wipro, Motherson Sumi Systems Ltd., Mahindra & Mahindra Ltd, etc.

Baden-Württemberg investment in India: Baden Württemberg is also an important investment partner with nearly 350 companies from the State already operating in India. Some of the best-known Baden-Württemberg investors in India include Mercedes-Benz AG, Robert Bosch GmbH, SAP AG, Heidelberg Cement, Porsche, Würth, Voith, Lapp Cables, etc.

Ayurveda/Yoga in Baden-Württemberg:

The black forest area of Baden-Württemberg has several popular Ayurveda centres. The International Day of Yoga was celebrated in Schwäbisch Hall on 21 June 2015. Continuing with a long tradition of supporting yoga, the city of Öhringen also hosted a day-long 'Yoga Day' to celebrate 'International Yoga Day 2018'. Since then, the celebrations have continued in other cities, for example in Bietigheim-Bissingen in 2021. Also, the Consulate is collaborating with local partners to host Ayurveda events in the region.

Indian Students in Baden-Württemberg:

Around 3671 Indian students are registered at various universities in Baden-Württemberg. Among them many students are registered at Heidelberg, Stuttgart, Karlsruhe, Freiburg and Tübingen.

Indian Community in Baden-Württemberg:

As per the latest data available, there are 38,330 Indians living in Baden-Wuerttemberg. Additionally, there are about 10,000 Germans of Indian origin in Baden-Wuerttemberg. Though small, the Indian community is quite active and comprises 4 distinct groups namely (i) those who came in the 60s for higher education, most of them are now living a retired life; (ii) those who came in the late 70s and 80s, most of whom are in textiles and restaurant business; (iii) IT professionals and (iv) University students. The well-integrated Indian community also remains in active contact with developments back home and organizes various cultural functions.

Honorary Indian Consulate in Stuttgart:

India has a long tradition of maintaining an Honorary Consulate in Stuttgart, which was continued after the establishment of CGI, Munich in the year 2002.

The present Honorary Consul is Mr. Andreas Lapp, an industrialist from Stuttgart who has also invested in India. Mr. Lapp contributes to the organization of the India Summer Week in Stuttgart where Stuttgart Indian Film Festival is held annually and organizes the 'Stuttgart meets Mumbai' event.

An annual meet titled 'Stuttgart meets Mumbai Winefest' takes place on the basis of the twinning agreement in Mumbai. In recent years, a delegation from the City of Stuttgart led by the Lord Mayor has been visiting Mumbai as part of the 'Stuttgart meets Mumbai' to strengthen cooperation in business, education, health, and culture. The 19th Wine Festival took place in February 2023. with more than 1,000 guests from India, Germany and other countries. Mr. Lapp is also the Convener of the Stuttgart Chapter of the German India Round Table (GIRT). As part of his own establishment in Stuttgart, he also operates an India Business Centre.

Out-reach activities of the Consulate:

In recent years, the Consulate has reached out to various stakeholders including Ministries in Stuttgart and Mayors in important cities. Efforts have been made to connect with important Universities and Research Institutes, and schools involved in student-exchange programs. Since there are several diaspora/community associations in Baden-Württemberg, Consulate encourages them to organize events related to Indian festivals, cultures etc. and provides financial support where possible.
